Stand-up

202 range, design: Thorsten Franck

Stand-up is a stool that keeps you fit just like an exercise ball and brings a fun approach to the serious side of life. The design was based on the one-legged milking stool – you sit on it at a slant and it suddenly has three legs. As a result, Stand-up encourages you to swing your hips and let your mind wander in recreational and breakout zones, informal meeting spaces, project and workshop environments, or lobbies and waiting areas. It comes with a practical carry strap to take it from room to room, or perhaps for a spell al fresco.

Stand-up is designed like a child's toy that won't tip over. Given a gentle push, it swings back, but rights itself again – even from an up to 50° angle from the vertical. Its tilted stance when not in use underscores one of its key features: it shows that this attractive item is a dynamic support that moves and not a static stool.
